

The Journey Tales

For 8 thru 12 year olds

This series is written to engage high interest and encourage a sense of brotherhood, as the listeners explore the cultural heritage of the nations of the world.

It includes 9 teaching stories of around 50 pages - 10 lessons each.

Akbar and the Hunter

The story of the human family offers its children poignant scenes shimmering through heroic quests and woven into grand sagas.

Discovery in Ancient Persia

The Harmonies Way Cultural Stories interweave the fanciful and real into the journey of a young hero or heroine. The listener enters the experience of the shared meals, customs, creativity and daily rhythms of the people by means of the activated imagination.

There is much storytelling along the way, both of folktales and larger than life historical heroes. The teaching story serves as an artery, not to set the hero apart from the listener, but to share his struggles and setbacks in the face of obstacles and oppositions to his quest.

The intent is to awaken the heart's awareness, that we are in truth one family, the human family, sharing one home, Planet Earth.
